Amazing assetto corsa hack tool URD T5 2015.Q: Query SQLite in Android I'm using the following query to get the 10 most viewed blogs in my database: SELECT COUNT() FROM db.tbl_blog_comments GROUP BY blog_id HAVING COUNT() > 10 ORDER BY COUNT() DESC LIMIT 10; The problem is this only returns me 10 entries which are ordered by their total number of comments instead of their number of comments per blog as I had wanted. So my question is: How do I get the most viewed blogs that have a total of >10 comments (please no answers on how to improve my current query) A: A way to count the number of comments is to use a sub-query. Since SQLite doesn't support it natively, you would need a UNION to get the count. SELECT blog_id, COUNT() as num_of_comments FROM db.tbl_blog_comments GROUP BY blog_id HAVING COUNT(*) > 10 UNION ALL SELECT NULL,0 ORDER BY 2 DESC LIMIT 10; Pioglitazone exerts its neuroprotective action by modulating PI3K/Akt/mTOR and Nrf2-mediated pathway. Increasing evidence suggests that rosiglitazone, a PPAR γ agonist, may be efficacious in the treatment of Alzheimer's disease. However, its effect on oxidative stress has not been elucidated. In this study, we investigated the effect of pioglitazone on the amyloid- β peptide (A β 1-42)-induced oxidative stress and its possible mechanism in the primary cortical neuronal cells from the fetal rats. A β 1-42 treatment caused a significant elevation in the levels of reactive oxygen species (ROS), apoptosis, and lactate dehydrogenase release in primary cortical neurons. Pioglitazone decreased ROS production, apoptotic death, and lactate dehydrogenase release in A β 1-42-treated neurons in a 570a42141b
