Plato used by Vico."I know that I'm an excellent prosecutor who has done a great service to the public. I know my case was a complex case. I know I did my job and I know that all the cases I had -- and including in this case -- I did all my best to follow the law and to do what was right.
But I will have to take responsibility for the outcome of the case," U.S. Attorney David Hickton said. "There are people who will say, "Well, she could have sought a better plea bargain. She could have given them a deal that included jail time." But I can assure you that I was not trying to do that," Hickton said. "I made the best offer I thought I could to this young woman to accommodate her. And I hope that she realizes the importance of the situation she put herself in and the risk that she took and the consequences." Dana Loesch, a spokeswoman for a National Rifle Association law firm, decried what she called an "outrageous and frankly bizarre" decision by Hickton. Her comments echoed those of Rep. Steve Stockman, R-Texas,
